

Provacan Launches a powerful ambassador's program

Provacan has just released an extremely powerful reward program for cannabis healthcare ambassadors and CBD customers. Provacan has already appointed over 100 top customers like VIPs.

With the increasing number and range of products, CiiTECH is excited by the opportunity to reward its best customers with savings in case they post about the experience they get from their customers and then refer new customers.

CiiTECH powers Provacan which is one of the best known UK-based CBD brands. Having been established in the year 2017, it has gained a large following among people who are looking for serious use of CBD.

Clifton Flack, CEO, and Founder of CiiTECH, said;

“The UK has always been one of the main markets for food supplements. We always make a point of having a close relationship with our customers. We highly value their feedback because it helps in product development and on our part, we provide discounts and coupons where we can. Launching this program has been long overdue and our customers are excited”

Our deal is that 100 points are rewarded for creating a new account. A friend referral worth ten pounds earns you twenty pounds.

Currently, Provacan CBD customers can earn points with purchases and other simple activities like a friend referral, or sharing it via different social media platforms. The points you earn can be redeemed for free CBD products or discounts making you feel a part of the Provacan community.
